Living in New Zealand Occupation: Speech Therapist Marital Status: Married No. of Children: 1 Last Edited: February 14, 2012 19:44 From Nancy Lee: I started at Clover Park at the beginning of my junior year in September 1960, having transferred in that summer from a small high school in Port Angeles. It was a big change for me and took some getting use to as I had left behind many of my closest friends and classmates with whom I had grown up. I didn't get to know that many of you but I found the students at C.P. to be friendly and congenial, and I did make some great friends and create some wonderful memories during my two years there. I went on to graduate from the UoW with my B.S. in Physical Therapy in June '73, married Robert that summer, honeymooned in Europe, the Middle East, and in Egypt, then returned to the UoW that fall term to begin work on my Master's in Speech Pathology, which I received in August '74, just three months before my 30th birthday. Shortly after I received my master's, Robert resigned from his position as the CFO of a major corporation in Seattle and we moved to Parnell, Auckland, New Zealand where we have lived ever since. Once we arrived here, we fell in love with the country, its culture, its climate, its quality of life, and its freindly people. I am able to go for daily walks in the beautiful park setting of the large, 185- acre Auckland Domain, located less than half a mile west of our home. Robert started out working in Auckland as a middle manager for a large company, and eventually worked his way back up to being a senior executive VP. During my many years here, I have enjoyed the numerous challenges of working as a Speech Therapist in Auckland. We have one son, Michael, who was born in Auckland in 1983 when I was 38 years old and is doing quite well for himself. I regret that I will be unable to attend our Golden Class Reunion in August, but I will be there in spirit and will keep all of you in my thoughts. GOOOOO "Clover Park Class of 1962" !!! Went to Seattle U after CPHS. Made it through 2 years. Wound up as an Infantry Lt in Vietnam--thinking back on that, would have preferred the Jesuits. Another 14 years active Army, VN, Thailand, Korea, Kiev in former USSR, other odd places. Another 9 years in reserves, including Desert Storm, not fun. In meantime successive careers as a bar owner/ski area marketing dir in Winter Park, CO; hotel GM-Hotel Co VP; and finally for some reason running convention centers, currently the one in Savannah GA. Married to Mary Ellen, no kids but many cool neices and nephews. Enjoy outdoors, beach, motorcycling, kayaking, rowing. Only had my senior yr at CPHS--first 3 were in Panama Canal Zone--but remember how friendly and open everybody was there to newcomers.

From Janelle: This is awkward--I've been telling everyone I'm 39... Okay, I'm over the shock so I'm back. I'm only going to tell you the good stuff. For the rest, you'll have to send money (I'm setting up a website.). After we graduated, Dick Hooper (CP Class of '61) and I went to Eastern Washington to attend classes and party. On the way, we stopped in Coeur d'Alene, Idaho where a Justice of the Peace with a wooden peg leg wearing a brown striped zoot suit married us before I checked into the dormitory. (Yes. Idaho. We couldn't read a map). After Dick graduated, and got his regular Army Commission, We began to travel from one army fort to the other. I let him go without me to Vietnam because I'd been warned about what the tropical air could do to a woman's hair. We have one daughter who lives too far away (about three miles). She insists upon keeping our grandson with her so, obviously, she's very selfish. When Dick grew up he became a banker and then a corporate bankruptcy specialist which has left me lots of time to follow my passions: organic gardening, photography, marine science, archaeology, history of the Old West, and more. He has yet to retire. While I've been waiting for him to take me off to a tropical island somewhere I've published six books, have another one in the cooler, and am writing a one-man show for a Hollywood actor. Lately, I've been involved with Amazon's WorldReader; they've accepted two of my books for their program. I'm also working on another project for them. Dick and I live in Puyallup where we have a good life without any drama. An exciting night for us is when we sit on the deck with a drink and watch the moon roll over our pasture. Life is good. I look forward to seeing all of you at the reunion.

Occupation: volunteer Marital Status: Married No. of Children: 2 Last Edited: February 9, 2012 15:46 From Gerri: I've been married for 45 years to a very good man, Randy Dawson. We have two super daughters both very active in church and community work and five Grandkids from 19 years old down to two 6 year olds. Both the girls live with their families within ten minutes of us here in Sammamish, Wa. Thus, we do a lot of you know what – you got it – babysitting. Life has been good - filled with lots of adventures – some real tough – and some really fun. I am an avid tennis player – well to the extent that we play, Rand and I, together twice a week endeavoring always to keep the ball away from the other Five days a week I write an inspirational message called “God Calling” and have been doing this for almost 25 years. It all started when our daughter went off to college and we moved to Las Vegas. She was stressed out and we were missing her This started me writing messages to inspire her to be all that she could be. Little did we know it would be something that others needed as well. And, I'm a walker – so I keep the body moving and shaking by taking our one year old puppy, Mazie, for her daily walk. We have lived in three states – Washington, Nevada and Arizona – all have been great experiences. Rand is retired from the banking field and I am semi-retired from my Hypnotherapy/counseling business. We have a cabin/retreat property in Republic, Wa. that is for sale, by the way, and thus spend a great deal of the summer months there although there is great skiing close by in the winter months. We are far too busy in our retirement years, but enjoying it all day by day. What a great thrill it is to be able to imagine seeing you all once again.

Occupation: Retired Lutheran Missionary Marital Status: Married No. of Children: 2 Last Edited: March 12, 2012 20:56 From James "Carl": I was a military kid that came to Clover Park my junior year. I attended 9 different schools to get through 12 years. Graduating from Clover Park allowed me to get into Central Washington. There I went through 4 years of Air Force ROTC. In August 1966, I graduated, got commissioned, and married in one week. The marriage proved to be the more important of the three. Melody and I have been married for 45 years. We had 2 sons and 1 grandson. Our grandson is sixteen and really into music. He plays base guitar with a rock band and base violin with his high school orchestra. Me love him very much, He is our only grandchild. The 19 years after Central were busy and exciting. I was an Air Force Air Traffic Control Officer in Mississippi and Taiwan. Our first son was born in Taiwan. I was never in Vietnam. I had many jobs after the Air Force and then I happened on to a teaching position with Operation Head Start. I did not have a teaching degree and after teaching 2 terms with Head Start I returned to Central for an Ed degree. I took 9 months. I taught for 10 years. We have been living in the Bremerton area since 1977. We were and are very active members of our Lutheran church. Our sons were brought up in that church. We knew they had been given the chance to know our Jesus and have a personal relationship with Him. On February 26, 1984, I left our house to attend a board of directors meeting at Martha and Mary Nursing Home in Poulsbo. I passed by a group of aide vehicles and people standing around an accident. I am always the time keeper and drove on. Our oldest son, Jeff, had been hit and killed just minutes before I drove by. He was only 14. We were devastated and overcome with grief. It was one of those points in life when you did not know if it was worth going on, but you knew you had to go on. A month later our Pastor gave a sermon on missions. He described a small Lutheran society called Lutheran Bible Translators. Something happened to me. I was consumed by passion that others should know what my son knew about Jesus. Christians express experiences like this as, "a call." We went out with Lutheran Bible Translators as Literacy and Literature Development Specialist for the next 25 years. We spent 8 years in Sierra Leone and 15 years in Botswana. They are in Africa. My heart is in Africa, but because of poor health I retired in 2010. We will only be at the picnic on Saturday. I'll be the old man in the African shirt. Come by and share some stories with me. I have plenty to share. God bless, Carl

I came to CPHS as an Army brat, having recently arrived back from France. This made for some amusing encounters in my first year French class in the 9th grade. Sitting next to me was a guy who had just come back from Bordeaux; I had lived in the Alsace-Lorraine region, where the French is influenced by German. Consequently, both of our regionally learned dialects were different from the Parisian dialect of our teacher. We, being brats of the Army sort, didn't mind insisting that our versions were correct, while we eyeballed each other for who was right. We should not have been sitting next to each other! Arriving to a community (now Lakewood) that was relatively stable, who had not frequently moved all over the place, was a real challenge. I felt out of place and friendless. We learned quickly as military dependents to make friends fast and shallow, since at any moment one of us would be gone the next day. Therefore, moments of genuine stability at CPHS became life long inspirations. For those inspirations I am very grateful to Virginia Heidbreder (drama) and to Paul Wagley (advanced history placement), both of whom provided not only intellectual stimulation but also philosophical and artistic structures. Their professionalism led me into lifelong pursuits of religion, philosophy and the arts. Upon graduation, I went through teacher training, graduating from Concordia University Chicago and took a deep love of thinking about human nature at its fundamentals into teaching grammar school, junior and senior high schools and then as a college professor, after earning an MA in Theatre from the University of Denver. I studied dance with Martha Graham and professional acting with Lee Strasberg. Meanwhile, I had begun playing timpani and percussion and subsequently did so over 30 years with various orchestras. Among many memorable experiences was playing with members of the Chicago Symphony Orchestra and the Midwest Professional Choir in their historic reconstruction of the very first performance of Handel's Messiah. Another was spending a summer acting with the Light Opera of Manhattan. And a third was dancing with members of the New York City Ballet. And finally, it was a joy to have been performing in Chicago with the beginning of the Liturgical Dance and Theatre movements. Music, theatre and dance became the bedrock of my professional life, experiences I took with me into several pastorates within the United Church of Christ. I received an MDiv and immediately launched into starting the UCC AIDS Ministry and for that became a consultant around the United States, worked on national policy and traveled to Europe to share what we were doing on this side of the pond. I ended my professional relationship with organized religion as Senior Minister at First Congregational Church San Francisco, then took myself through an intensive training as a massage therapist and thereafter have focussed on healing. I most recently retired as Chaplain at Hospice of Humboldt (CA) and now have a private practice using sound environments, ritual and specific forms of rattling and drumming to assist people in entering ecstatic trance states for healing, unlocking creativity and promoting peace of mind. In our ecstasy starved culture, the reintroduction of these ancient practices has proven very beneficial wherever people are doing this "shamanic" work. And for that, I became a Certified Teacher at the Cuyamungue Institute (Santa Fe, NM) In addition, I am in consultation with folks at New York University in wanting to find ways to reunite the origins of our ancient traditions that unfortunately have been split apart, over some centuries, into separate tracks of

Kit, I do remember you, and I did reply to your email but got the "permanent failure" msg ... you must be on the road. After Clover Park, being an "AirForce Brat", wanted to be a fighter pilot and went to the University of Utah in AFROTC, but the physical in my junior year failed my eyes for pilot training. I left school to avoid flying a desk for the 5-year obligation I would have had, and ended up in the Army for a couple of years, including one in exotic Southeast Asia (VN) in '66-'67. Then returned to the UofU to finish school, married, and went to work for the State of Utah. I retired from there after 33 years, and started a consulting business that was going to be just a few hours a week, but turned into a 60-hour plus thing. My wife retired from the Union Pacific after 38 years, and I've been backing out of the consulting business the last few years. Now we travel, play a lot of golf, spend some time in Hawaii, Mexico, Nevada, and take a cruise or two a year. We have a terrific daughter who has her own business and coaches a high school girl's golf team, a granddaughter and grandson we're very proud of. Life is good, glad to still be able to enjoy it.

I met Charlie at Whitworth & married in 1964. We both graduated (65 & 66) and began teaching. We also raised quarter horses as a hobby, but then became a business. We showed our horses throughout the NW and Canada. After showing horses, Charlie headed for the roping arena (heading) and I, of course, am his cheerleader. Charlie still ropes and we travel wherever there is a roping. Charlie retired from teaching in 1995 and I followed in 1999. We sold all our breeding stock, retiring after 40 years with the horses in 2005. We have been able to enjoy life doing what we love. Our son, Wade, passed away in 1979 do to heart problems from birth. Jason and his family live only 10 miles from us in the Palouse Rolling hills. Country living agrees with all of us.
