Invitation

Cedar Falls High School Class of 1967 50th Reunion

Dear CFHS Classmates,

Fifty years! This is a special reunion. For those of you who have mixed feelings about attending class reunions (as I have had), it is time to let go of memories of high school insecurities and celebrate our common bond—those formative years that influenced our five decades of life experiences. It's time to celebrate our 50-year journey and remember the friends we have lost.

So, plan to attend our reunion events this June, summarized in the attached PDF file. We've had committees in Cedar Falls and in the Twin Cities create several activities for you to choose from, highlighted by our dinner and program on Friday, June 23rd. Print off the registration form in the PDF file, mark the events that you will attend or interest you, and mail it and a check to Teresa Hanneman Sterrett by May 1st.

We will record who is interested in participating in each event on our web site at http://www.classreport.org/usa/ia/cedar_falls/cfhs/1967/, or you can do it yourself by clicking "Register Online." You can also view who is coming to each event. If you haven't logged onto the website yet and provided information about yourself, we urge you to do so, whether you are attending the reunion or not. Many people have posted wonderful bios about their lives, and we want to hear from more of you. Who would have guessed the variety of experiences each of us would have? Give us a flavor of yours in your bio on the web.

We are sending this invitation by e-mail to the 265 classmates for whom we have found e-mail addresses. If you are unable to open the PDF file, please contact Judy Edge Hart at judyinthecountry@aol.com, and she will mail you a hard copy. We are also mailing hard copies of the invitation to the 55 people for whom we have found street addresses but not e-mail addresses. There are 12 people listed on the web site as "Missing," with no contact information. If you have information on these people, please let Judy know.

Life is short! If you haven't attended our class reunions before, this is the one to come to. We want to see you, relive our memories of being Cedar Falls students, and hear stories of your life since then. We also want you to join us in a memorial before the Friday dinner for the 43 classmates we have lost.

Teresa is waiting to receive your registration form. I look forward to seeing you in Cedar Falls in June!

During the social and throughout the evening (except during the formal program), a playlist of songs will play (created by Faye Knowles, Bill Lorenz, and Monica Miller Murphy) and a slideshow of pictures of our class activities will be displayed (created by Judy Edge Hart, and Tom and Roberta Murphy Keen). Also throughout the evening, Jack Creery and Brian Narveson will take informal photos of people.

Vorland Photography will arrange people for a large group photo, most likely outdoors, depending on the weather.

6:30 Welcome and Memorial – Mark Pries and Monica Murphy

Bob Johns will direct people to be seated and give a brief welcome. Then he will introduce Pastor Mark Pries and Monica Miller, who will conduct the Memorial for deceased classmates. Mark will say some opening words, and then announce each person's name as Tom Keen advances a slideshow of yearbook pictures of the deceased (created by Tom and Roberta Murphy Keen). Monica will place a white carnation in a vase as Mark reads each name. Mark will provide some closing words to end the Memorial.

6:40 Buffet dinner

People will be asked to go to the buffet line by table. Tables will be decorated with balloons, red and black napkins, and center pieces, provided and arranged by Cheriee Welsh Tarr and Faye Knowles. Dessert provided by Patty Koehn.

7:30 Beginning of Program – Bob Johns

Bob Johns will give some opening remarks, including thanking all those who helped plan the reunion by asking them to stand and be recognized. He will also ask any of our 46 veterans who are present to stand and be recognized. He will close with his perspectives on the 50th year anniversary, and then introduce the program activities by referencing the printed programs that will be on each table (created by Jan Dorman Albertson).

7:40 Opening Sing-A-Long, to the tune of “Battle of New Orleans” – Bob Davey

Bob Johns will introduce Jan Dorman Albertson and Bob Davey to lead this sing-a-long that was written by Bob Davey. Jan and others will lead the singing of it as Bob Davey provides accompaniment with his guitar. She will ask people to use the printed programs at each table to sing the lyrics.

Bob Johns will introduce Faye, who will lead a trivia game using handouts that are on each table.

8:25 Closing Sing-A-Long, to the tune of “Blowin’ in the Wind” – Bob Davey

Bob Johns will ask Jan Dorman Albertson and Bob Davey to come up again and lead this sing-a-long, also written by Bob Davey. Jan and others will lead the singing of it as Bob Davey provides accompaniment with his guitar. She will ask people to use the printed programs at each table to sing the lyrics.

8:30 Wrap-Up – Bob Johns

Bob Johns will thank everyone who planned and led the program activities. He will also encourage people to attend the Saturday and Sunday events listed in the programs on the tables, emphasizing that people participating in the parade should meet at 9:00 a.m. at 7th and Clay by the Class of 67 float, wearing red and black and their Class of 67 cap or visor. He will then close the formal program and announce that the remaining time (after photos of elementary school classes) is for informal visits with classmates.

8:45 Pictures of elementary school classes

Bob Johns will direct people to gather by their elementary schools for their pictures: Cedar Heights, Lincoln, North Cedar, Orchard Hill, and others if represented (St. Pat’s, Main Street Manual Arts, Valley Park, and Humbert). Brian Narveson will take the pictures.

CFHS Class of 1967 50th Year Reunion

Memorial for Deceased Classmates
By Pastor Mark Pries

June 23, 2017

When we were in high school 50 years ago, we knew about temporal things:

Frogs and squirrels; Mustangs and Cameros
Vietnam and draft cards
Race and riots
The Cold War and nuclear bombs
Politics and conventions
Money and fashion
College and Jobs
Sex and culture

All of these are still aspects of our lives, though nuanced:

The Mideast and oil
Race & Religion
A polarized nation and world
Politics and power
Rich and poor
Work and Retirement
Children, grandchildren, great grandchildren
Grief and loss
Health and wellness

Now, more importantly, we consider ultimate concerns:

Love and truth
Life and death.

Our culture lets people pass away or be lost;

we get together to celebrate life when people pass or transition.

The truth: precious ones have died grandparents, parents, siblings, children, grandchildren, a spouse, partners, friends

For this little while,

we remember those from the Class of 67 who've gone before us:
classmates who have died.

Naming them now does RE-member them to our Class of '67:

What they said;

What they did;
How they touched our lives;
How they loved us;
How they shaped who we are.

As I name each one, let us hold them precious:
our lives and world are different because of each one.

As a grateful people, we now RE-member:

The pluralism of peoples is more known to us today than in 1967.

When we gather, we have an inter-faith awareness.

Not everybody believes what we do;

Not everybody recognizes a higher power;

Yet, it seems, all people recognize the importance of table fellowship:

People coming together for a meal.

My friend Tom is a friend of Bill's:

he recognizes a higher power;

Rabbi Jeff was emphatic with me about tonight:

name your faith: pray it & live it;

Imam Keita, on this night closing Ramadan,

asked me to pray to my God for blessing.

I am a Christian and I invite you to welcome this table blessing:

God of grace and peace, you have given us minds to know you, hearts to love you and voices to sing your praises. This night, fill us with your breath to freshen our memories and conversations; bless this meal to sustain our bodies; preserve in our memories the treasures of this night; inspire our days as we welcome the future you have prepared for us. I ask this in the name Jesus, my Lord. Amen.

CFHS Class of 1967 50 Year Reunion

Program Opening Remarks

By Bob Johns

June 23, 2017

The first thing I would like to do is to recognize people who have helped make this reunion possible. We've had two teams leading our efforts, a Cedar Falls team and a Twin Cities team; and we've had many others who have helped.

Everyone who has had anything to do with organizing this reunion, please stand up and be recognized. Great work by all of you.

I'd like to single out a few people, especially those behind the scenes:

- First, I want to recognize Teresa Hanneman (I'm going to use maiden names tonight), Jim Boileau, and Vickie Lutz, leaders of our Cedar Falls team. These three classmates have provided continuity for all our reunions. We have depended on them to trigger our reunion planning process for decades.
- For this 50-year reunion, they made arrangements for reunion facilities and took care of numerous details, with the help of their Cedar Falls committee members. In addition, Teresa continued to be our treasurer, and Jim provided an extensive spreadsheet of names and contact information that we used to help build our web site.
- Regarding continuity of leadership, I also want to recognize Andrea Kercheval and Sue Eaton for their past roles in planning our reunion programs. We decided to give them a break this year.
- Chuck Nygren and Jan Dorman led our highly successful golf and biking outings today.
- The playlist of music we've been listening to was created by Faye Knowles, Bill Lorenz, and Monica Miller.
- Cheriee Welsh coordinated the decorating of our tables tonight.
- Pastor Mark Pries was absolutely wonderful in leading our memorial for the classmates we have lost, with Monica Miller recognizing each person with a white carnation.
- The slideshows—of our deceased classmates for our memorial and of class activities from our yearbooks—were created by Roberta Murphy and her husband Tom, with assistance from Judy Edge.
- You'll hear from our leaders of tonight's program shortly: Jan Dorman, Bob Davey, Jim Luders, and Faye Knowles.

- Brian Narveson and Jack Creery are taking pictures throughout tonight, including pictures of our elementary school classes by Brian. We also saw Jack at the golf course this morning taking pictures.
- Patty Koehn not only baked cupcakes and cookies for dessert tonight; she also provided all the food at Amvets on Thursday.
- Our float in the parade tomorrow is going to be fantastic, thanks to the leadership of Kim Rhoades, Sue Venter, Buddy Hansen, Faye Knowles, Judy Edge, and Bob Davey. We hope you all participate.
- Kurt Baum organized our picnic tomorrow afternoon at Birdsall Park, which was reserved by Teresa Hanneman and Judy Edge..
- Jack Creery and Judy Edge arranged for a tent at the jazz festival tomorrow. Look for a Class of 67 banner.
- On Sunday, Vickie Lutz will continue her tradition of inviting us to her house for brunch, as our final reunion event.

We've been able to plan and communicate about this reunion with a more extensive use of technology than ever before, especially through the use of e-mail and a class web site, which our technical experts made possible.

- Jim Boileau deserves credit for finding and selecting the web site that we've developed. He also used his spreadsheet of contact information that he has maintained over the years to provide us with about 80 e-mail addresses to start with.
- Al Anway has been incredible, with Judy Edge's assistance, in finding additional e-mail addresses, as we have populated the web site with information about class members. We have located all of our classmates except for 11, and thanks to Al and Judy, we have e-mail addresses now for 270 class members.

I believe that the establishment of our class web site is almost as significant as holding this class reunion. We now have a base of information that can be updated continuously, and we have a tool to use to announce class news and future reunions. If you haven't registered and entered your profile information on the web, please do so.

Finally, I want to single out one person. She has kept everything moving, having her hands in almost every reunion activity, and participating in both the Cedar Falls and Twin Cities teams.

- You all know that I'm referring to Judy Edge. She has helped me tremendously. In fact, I wouldn't be up here without her recruiting and motivating me. I believe she is the heart and soul of our 50-year reunion. Let's thank her.

There is another group of people in addition to reunion organizers that we need to recognize: our veterans. Our web site shows 46 veterans in our class. There most likely are more who have not entered their service information. All the veterans who are here tonight, please stand and be recognized.

We've come through a lot in 50 years.

The Vietnam War had a huge impact on those of you who served in the military—including the loss of our classmate Danny Hilton in Vietnam. It had an impact on the rest of us as well.

Our uncertainty about our country's involvement in Vietnam was related to the questioning in the late sixties and early seventies that many of us went through. What kind of life did we want to lead? What kind of society did we want to support?

I'll never forget those struggles and my attempts to define a direction for myself.

My wife Linda found an article about memories by an evolutionary psychologist, Frank McAndrew. His research has shown that our strongest memories come from things that happened to us between the ages of 10 and 30. A lot happened to us in those years.

Those memories are intense because of our emotions. As McAndrew states, "Strong emotions equal strong memories." It is rare in our lives that our emotions are as strong as in high school.

He writes: "Many of us will never forget high school: the unrequired romantic crushes, chronic embarrassment, desperate struggles for popularity, sexual awakening, parental pressure—and above all else, competition—social, athletic, and academic."

Do you remember? Does it sound familiar?

I remember it well. I did not do too badly in the competition in academics and athletics. In fact, being an athlete with good grades is the only reason that I can think of for me being elected class president. I don't remember running for class president. I don't remember being nominated—maybe Bill Lorenz did it as a joke? I do know that I was not elected for my maturity.

The competition I had the most difficulty with in high school was social. I felt I failed many times, especially in dealing with girls and dating. I'll always be thankful for Jane Haugen, who invited me to Sadie Hawkins, which led to me having her as a date for Homecoming and Prom.

McAndrew's research helps explain to me my mixed feelings about high school reunions. I'm not alone. Over two thirds of our class are not here, with many probably not wanting to be here.

But, as class president, I really can't have that as an excuse for not participating—I need to live up to the role.

The first person to remind of this and suggest I do more for the 50-year reunion was Andrea Kercheval, who Linda and I see through our connections with her brother Eric in the Twin Cities.

But the call that clinched my increased involvement was from Judy Edge. When we were juniors, she and I sat next to each other in Mr. Hofstede's chemistry class. Her warmth allowed me to overcome my shyness, and we became good friends. Mr. Hofstede would smile at us with his twinkling eyes, silently imploring us to be quiet.

I've enjoyed reconnecting with Judy in planning this reunion. We have shared with each other our experiences of the past 50 years—our families, our jobs, our moves, and our retirement activities. I've also enjoyed reconnecting with other classmates who volunteered to be on the Twin Cities planning team: Jan Dorman, Faye Knowles, Roberta Murphy, Kurt Baum, Monica Miller, and Dick Redfern.

I think this is what this reunion should be about: reconnecting and learning about our lives beyond high school. We're the same people we were in high school. We have tremendous bonds developed through our common experiences during those years. We recognize our friends instantly.

But we're also entirely different people than we were in high school. We have 50 years of life experiences—ups and downs, gains and losses, triumphs and failures. We have fascinating stories to tell—the bios on the web just scratch the surface.

So, let's enjoy this weekend by sharing and celebrating the rich experiences each of us has had in the past 50 years. Ok?

We'll start our celebration tonight with a song written by Bob Davey and led by Jan Dorman, with the help of others recruited by Jan. After the song, Jan will ask us some questions, and we will learn things that some of you have done over the last 50 years.

The next two parts of the program will explore our memories, first with the reading of a poem by Jim Luders and then with a trivia game led by Faye Knowles. We'll close with another song by Jan and Bob.

Again, thanks to everyone who has helped with this reunion, and thanks to all of you who are here. I encourage you to participate in our events tomorrow and Sunday, starting with the parade. We'll meet at 7th and Clay at 9:00 a.m. Wear red and black, with your Class of 67 caps or visors, and be ready to sing and rock our float with songs from the sixties.

To the tune of Battle of New Orleans

lyrics by Bob Davey

1. In twenty-seventeen we took a little trip, back to Cedar Falls a hundred miles from the Mississipp'
We traveled in the daytime and we traveled in the night
We were so excited that we couldn't eat a bite.

Chorus:

We cheered for the red and we cheered for the black
We prayed for our classmates, that they all would come back
We cheered for the tigers, who we thought would always win
We couldn't wait to see all our classmates here again.

2. The 50 year reunion was the thing that brought us home
Some had never left but others they had roamed
We had to lose some weight, maybe 50 pounds
As we ate too many candy bars, Almond Joy and Mounds.

3. We got to Cedar Falls on a freeway across the town
We were half way to Waverly before we tuned around
We finally found an exit, that took us down to town
But the streets they all were different so we circled all around.

4. We remember sports, and the marching band the cafeteria meals, they weren't so grand
Sometimes in the study hall, we'd slip on off to sleep
But no one ever bothered us, they hardly said a peep.

5. We drove our cars to High School and for pizza on the hill
Most the kids drove clunkers, we remember still
We never skipped a class and never missed a day
there's only just a little truth in everything we say.

6. Sometimes we still dream that we are late for class
And can't remember the locker combination to save our ____
We wake up in a sweat and then think, what a fool
It was 50 years ago that we were in High School.

Blowin' In the Wind

lyrics by Bob Davey & Faye Knowles

1. How many roads did each classmate walk down
Before we all got here today?
How many memories do we bring with us?
So many, and some went astray!
How many times do we think of those years
With smiles, or with tears—either way,

Wind

CHORUS: The answer, my friend, is Blowin' in the
The answer is Blowin' in the Wind.

2. How many years will it take to forget
Norm Jesperson stalking the school?
How many years til we convince our kids
That bell-bottoms really were cool?
How many games did we go to and cheer
To prove that the Tigers DO rule?

3. How many times have we seen our old friends
Or thought of them all with a smile?
How many pictures remind us of things?
That we haven't done in a while?
How many times will we gather again?
Home-Coming from many a mile?

CFHS 50th Reunion Poem Reading

The Land of Sandra Dee
By Anonymous Author

Read by Jim Luders
June 23, 2017

Long ago and far away,
In a land that time forgot,
Before the days of Dylan
Or the dawn of Camelot.

There lived a race of innocents,
And they were you and me,
Long ago and far away
In the Land of Sandra Dee.

Oh, there was truth and goodness
In that land where we were born,
Where navels were for oranges,
And Peyton Place was porn.

For Ike was in the White House,
And Hoss was on TV,
And God was in his heaven
In the Land of Sandra Dee.

We learned to gut a muffler,
We washed our hair at dawn,
We spread our crinolines to dry
In circles on the lawn.

And they could hear us coming
All the way to Tennessee,
All starched and sprayed and rumbling
In the Land of Sandra Dee.

We longed for love and romance,
And waited for the prince,
And Eddie Fisher married Liz,
And no one's seen him since.

We danced to "Little Darlin",
And Sang to "Stagger Lee"

And cried for Buddy Holly
In the Land of Sandra Lee.

Only girls wore earrings then,
And three was one too many,
And only boys wore flat-top cuts,
Except for Jean McKinney.

And only in our wildest dreams
Did we expect to see
A boy named George with Lipstick
In the Land of Sandra Dee.

We fell for Frankie Avalon,
Annette as oh, so nice,
And when they made a movie,
They never made it twice.

We didn't have a Star Trek Five,
Or Psycho Two and Three,
Or Rocky-Rambo Twenty
In the Land of Sandra Dee.

Miss Kitty had a heart of gold,
And Chester had a limp,
And Reagan was a Democrat
Whose co-star was a chimp.

We had a Mr Wizard,
But not a Mr T,
And Oprah couldn't talk yet
In the Land of Sandra Dee.

We had our share of heroes,
We never thought they'd go,
At least not Bobby Darin,
Or Marilyn Monroe.

For youth was still eternal,
And life was yet to be,
And Elvis was forever,
In the Land of Sandra Dee.

We'd never seen the rock band
That was Grateful to be Dead,

And Airplanes weren't named Jefferson,
And Zeppelins weren't Led.

And Beatles lived in gardens then,
And Monkees in a tree,
Madonna was a virgin
In the Land of Sandra Dee.

We'd never heard of Microwaves,
Or telephones in cars,
And babies might be bottle-fed,
But they weren't grown in jars.

And pumping iron got wrinkles out,
And "gay" meant fancy-free,
And dorms were never coed
In the Land of Sandra Dee.

We hadn't seen enough of jets
To talk about the lag,
And microchips were what was left
At the bottom of the bag.

And Hardware was a box of nails,
And bytes came from a flea,
And rocket ships were fiction
In the Land of Sandra Dee.

Buicks came with portholes,
A side show came with freaks,
And bathing suits came big enough
To cover both your cheeks.

Coke came just in bottles,
Skirts came to the knee,
And Castro came to power
In the Land of Sandra Dee.

We had no Crest with Fluoride,
We had no Hill Street Blues,
We all wore superstructure bras
Designed by Howard Hughes.

We had no patterned pantyhose
Or Lipton herbal tea

Or prime-time ads for condoms
In the Land of Sandra Dee.

There were no golden arches,
No Perriers to chill,
And fish were not called Wanda,
And cats were not called Bill.

And middle-aged was thirty-five
And old was forty-three,
And ancient were our parents
In the Land of Sandra Dee.

But all things have a season,
Or so we've heard them say,
And now instead of Maybelline
We swear by Retin-A.

And they send us invitations
To join AARP,
We've come a long way, baby,
From the Land of Sandra Dee.

So now we face a brave new world
In slightly larger jeans,
And wonder why they're using
Smaller print in magazines.

And we tell our children's children
Of the way it used to be,
Long ago and far away
In the Land of Sandra Dee.
